

Press Release

20 July, 2015

On Mandela Day Robben Island Museum celebrated the spirit of the world icon by giving away 18 free tickets to the island, including a High Tea experience at the luxurious Table Bay Hotel.

Robben Island is where Nelson Mandela and numerous political prisoners were incarcerated for daring to challenge the apartheid system. The aim of the competition was to share in the spirit of Madiba on a day that celebrates public service, and coming to the aid of those less privileged.

The winners had entered a competition on the Robben Island Museum's website where they were asked simple questions relating to the history of the island. They were subsequently contacted via email.
