

Universal accessibility is a key component in improving the visitor experience at any attraction site. To this end, we are in the process of installing a new floating Jetty at Murrays Bay Harbour at Robben Island. This installation is in compliance with our health and safety protocols for visitors.

What does this mean for you?

You will see improved infrastructural enhancements that include ramps and wheelchair-access pathways

What are the implications?

Tours will need to be suspended for two days – on Monday, 30 July and Tuesday, 31 July 2018.

We sincerely apologise for any inconveniences caused and thank you for choosing Robben Island Museum as your preferred attraction.

For rescheduling and refunds, please email rescheduling@robben-island.org.za and refunds@robben-island.org.za respectively.
